Judging from the columns of the newspapers the Washington Post is getting a severe "cut" these days.

The deadly toy pistol is bound to go and the "didn' know it was loaded" kind will keep on going—off.

When Commander Peary gets lost in the polar regions will it be any use for him to say, "Show me the way to go home?"

Jacksonville Times-Union: "When Senator Hanna strikes at General Wood, the chances are he is aiming for the man round the corner."

Men who haven't got the courage of their convictions never amount to anything in any party. Now we haven't said a word here about Walter R. Henry, have we?

The members of the Missouri Legislature are kicking themselves because they were not members of the Colombian Congress when there was a chance of canal graft.

It might be a good idea for the Democratic party to have reciprocity with the Republican party. The Democrats could afford to exchange some people who imagine they are Democrats.

A Patterson, N. J., family has been so frightened by the walking of a ghost at midnight, they will move out of the house. Most people down this way are rejoiced when "the ghost walks,"

"Hanna and Teller are evidently both in the woods, so far as Roosevelt's favorite general is concerned," says the Jacksonville Times-Union. Wonder if they would consider any old Rough Rider their game?

Mme. Elba declined to sing at the White House because she is not acquainted with Mrs. Roosevelt. She is somewhat like the Frenchman who let a man drown because he had never been introduced to the gentleman.

Grover Cleveland had poor luck on the preserves of the Back Bay Gunning Club, in Princess Anne county, Va. He didn't bag enough game to send Mrs. Cleveland her usual box of ducks. Maybe he will have bigger game for Mrs. Cleveland next November.

The Greensboro Record came to itself on Wednesday and found out that the paper had entered its 14th year on Tuesday. The STAR wishes its contemporary many more years of usefulness and prosperity, and that its "record" may be as good in the future as it has been in the past.

EARLY MORNING FIRE.

Four Thousand Barrels of Rosin and 1,500 Cross-Ties Went Up in Smoke.

THE DAMAGE ABOUT $8,500.

Splendid Services of the Steam Tug "Marion"—Fire Engine to Relief. Vessel and Warehouse Endangered—The Insurance.

Fire of an unknown origin which started shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday morning near the centre of the extensive naval store yards of the D. McEachern Company, on the west side of the river, nearly opposite Market street dock, destroyed upwards of 4,000 barrels of rosin belonging to the McEachern Co. and Paterson, Downing & Co., and between 1,500 and 2,000 cross ties belonging to the B. F. Keith Co. The property loss in the rosin is about $8,000 and in the crossties approximately $500, all of which is fully covered by insurance. For a time the large warehouse of the McEachern Company on the grounds and in which were stored 140 casks of spirits turpentine, was threatened as was also the schooner "Loring C. Ballard" in which were loaded about 14,000 cross-ties. The vessel had just completed receiving her cargo at an adjoining wharf and the burning of the warehouse would have meant the destruction of the schooner.

The steam tug "Marion," Captain Edgar D. Williams, had fortunately fired up a short time before the alarm was given and was about in readiness at her wharf at foot of Nun street to proceed to the compress to take the British steamer "Heathford" to the coal chute on slack water. She lost no time in reaching the scene of the fire and those on the spot marvelled at her promptness. The alarm went in at 5:17 and at 5:25 the "Marion" had a stream on the red flame through the dense black smoke. But for the services of the boat the warehouse would undoubtedly have gone and perhaps the vessel adjoining. Capt. Fletcher, who was aboard the schooner, said he was awakened by the alarm, but thought the fire was in town. In a few moments the second mate came down and told him of the danger to the schooner. By the time he could dress and get on deck, the "Marion" was steaming up to the wharf and the fire was gaining headway towards the warehouse. With the assistance of Chief Schnibben and two firemen a full stream from the "Marion" was put into play and after a while the flames were checked. The "Marion" then kept the fire subdued until half an hour later when Engine No. 2, from Fourth and Princess street fire station was towed over by the tug "Navassa" on one of the large lighters of the Acme Tea Chest Co. The additional stream and one later from the steamer "Wilmington" finally extinguished the flames about 11 o'clock.

Capt. Fletcher, of the schooner which was in danger, says that he is satisfied that but for the prompt work of the "Marion," the entire yard and warehouse would have gone. The "Marion" remained by the fire until 6:30 o'clock at the sacrifice of the personal interest of its master at the Compress. The service of the tug in this and other similar instances in the past should be recognized in substantial manner.

The alarm was sent to the department from box 41 by Policeman Jno. R. Hardee, who discovered the flame when it was only slightly larger than a single barrel on fire. Fire in a naval store yard with a wide river to cross on an intensely cold morning, however, make the proposition a hard one for the firemen. All hands did well in reducing the property loss to the minimum which they did.

LOCAL DOTS.

— Members of Wilmington Lodge No. 319 are notfied of a special meeting for to-night, in the advertising columns of to-day's paper.

— Announcement is made of the marriage last night of Mr. Robert G. Herring, son of Mrs. Delphia Herring, of Fayetteville, and Miss Annie Futch, of Wilmington.

— By deed filed for record yesterday, W. R. Falls transferred to Stephen Sneeden, for $30, a one-acre tract of land in Harnett township, between the "two-mile branch" and Wrightsville.

— Mrs. Caroline Tatum, widow of the late J. H. Tatum and a sister of Mr. John W. Monroe, of this city, was stricken with paralysis at her home in Elizabethtown, Wednesday night. A telegram to relatives in this city yesterday stated that her condition was very critical.

Basket Ball To-night.

Much interest is being manifested in the game of basket ball to be played to-night at the Y. M. C. A. by the Loughlin and Little teams. Both are in fine fettle and a sharp contest is promised. The Loughlins will line-up as follows: Albert Dosher and H. E. Boney, forwards; J. J. Loughlin, centre; E. L. Hunter and H. Sherman, guards. Little's team will line up as follows: W. A Little and Rob. Houston, forwards; F. Dupree, centre; A. C. Boney and E. T. Hancock, guards.

COTTON QUOTED 11 CENTS.

Highest Figures of Season at Chamber of Commerce—Sales, However, Lower. Local Shipping Intelligence.

Cotton on the local market yesterday reached the top notch of the season—11 cents for middling. That was the quotation at the Chamber of Commerce. Actual sales, however, were reported as low as 10⅞c. Receipts yesterday were 2,748 bales against only 1,871 bales same day last year. The naval stores market yesterday presented several changes. Spirits was steady at 56c. and there were sales of rosin at $2.10 per barrel.

The British steamer "Heathford," which cleared Wednesday night for Bremen, was receiving 600 tons of coal at the A. C. L. chute yesterday and will probably sail the last of this week. She carries 13,360 bales, valued at $757,518; cargo and vessel by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son.

Schooners "Pasadena" and "Loring C. Ballard" cleared yesterday for New York, the first named with a cargo from the Cape Fear Lumber Co. and the latter with 13,079 cross ties, consigned by the Standard Pole & Tie Co.

AS A BLOCKADE RUNNER.

Wonderful Possibilities of English Tramp Had She Been Available in '63.

The STAR has referred to the coming of the fine steamship "Anglo Saxon." A view from her upper bridge while she lies in one of the Champion Compress docks is most interesting, as she towers nearly a hundred feet above the level of the nearer ships. Her affable commander, Captain Perry, remarked to a STAR reporter that he was master of the British barque "Atawhelpea" in 1863, and that while at sea in that ship he was overhauled by the Confederate Corvette "Florida," commanded by the late Captain John Newland Maffitt, of Wilmington, who, after ascertaining that he was a genuine neutral, courteously permitted him to proceed on his voyage. It is interesting to note, as was called to mind yesterday, that if such a ship as the "Anglo Saxon" had been available as a blockade runner in Wilmington in 1863, while cotton was sold at the equivalent price of five cents in gold in the Confederacy and at over $1.00 in gold in England, she would have cleared a profit in one voyage of nine million dollars in gold, to say nothing about the inward cargo which might have raised the profit on one round voyage to ten and a quarter million dollars gold, estimating her cotton capacity at the record-breaking complement of 18,000 bales.

THE CASTLE HAYNES FERRY.

Joint Meeting Yesterday of Commissioners of New Hanover and Pender.

The commissioners of New Hanover and Pender counties met in joint session yesterday at Castle Haynes for the purpose of considering the maintenance of a free ferry over Northeast river, either by purchase, or lease of the present ferry or the establishment of a new ferry. Those present from New Hanover were Chairman D. McEachern, Maj. Wm. F. Robertson and Messrs. H. L. Vollers and M. W. Divine, while Chairman K. F. Powers, of Pender, represented the Board of that county.

The premises along the river were examined very closely by the commissioners and subsequently a formal meeting was held with Chairman K. F. Powers presiding and Mr. M. W. Divine acting as secretary. Nothing definite was arrived at and upon motion a joint committee from the two boards was appointed to report on the advisability of establishing a new ferry or the purchase or lease of the present Blossom told ferry. In order to establish lines, etc., the committee was instructed to procure a copy of the charter of the Blossom ferry, look into the matter very thoroughly and report at the earliest practicable time.

The joint commitee is composed of Chairman K. F. Powers and Commissioners F. P. Flynn and George J. Moore, of Pender; Chairman D. MacEachern and Messrs. Robertson and Vollers, of New Hanover.

Ladies Are Invited.

The Rev. Melton Clark, of Florence, S. C., will address the meeting at the Young Men's Christian Association Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. It has been decided to invite the ladies to hear this distinguished divine. There will be a special musical programme by a quartette composed of Miss Rena Mills, soprano; Mrs. F. A. Muse, contralto; Mr. R. H. Grant, basso; Mr. Chas. Dushan, tenor.

Fire at Flynn & Co's.

Examination yesterday morning by Mr. Flynn disclosed the fact that the fire in the office of Messrs. Flynn & Co. on the night previous did not completely destroy the books and records in the desk which was partially burned, as was at first thought. The books and some of the papers are pretty badly scorched but the records thereon are intact.

Mayor's Court Yesterday.

Annie Pollock and Gertrude McCall, colored, charged with robbing J. H. Bristow, a South Carolina negro, were bound over to Superior Court by the Mayor yesterday. They went to jail in default of $50 bond. Dave Merritt and Ben Bivins, both colored, were also sent over to the higher court for "crap shooting."

MEETING OF U. D. C.

Interesting Report of the General Convention in Charleston Last Week.

GEORGE DAVIS MONUMENT.

Concerted Effort Urged Upon Members of Cape Fear Chapter—Annual Meeting in December—Other Notes of U. D. C. Interest.

The regular monthly meeting of Cape Fear Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, held yesterday after noon in the W. L. I. armory, was of more than the usual interest from the fact that a most comprehensive report of the recent general convention in Charleston was submitted by Mrs. Junius Davis and was heard by the Chapter with great pleasure. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. M. S. Willard, the president, and Mrs. W. G. Pulliam was in attendance as secretary. A large number of members were present.

The Treasurer reported that the Chapter is now on a very sound financial basis. Concerted effort was urged upon member in the matter of the George Davis monument and much interest was manifested in the cause.

Attention was called to the fact that the next regular meeting on Dec. 19th will be the annual session for the election of officers and the transaction of other important business.

Mrs. Davis' excellent report of the Charleston gathering is as follows:

Report to the Cape Fear Chapter of the Proceedings of the Tenth Annual Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The tenth annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was opened on the 11th of November, 1903, in Hibernian Hall, Charleston, S. C., by Bishop Capers of that State, himself a veteran. Gov. Heyward and Mayor Smythe were on the platform to welcome us to their State and city.

I would like to say first that what struck me most forcibly in this convention was the fact that though North Carolina had one of the smallest delegations there, she was well represented in the delegations from many of the other States. The president of the Georgia division is a North Carolina woman. Ohio's president, Louisiana's and Missouri's are all women from the Old North State. A lady from Southern Virginia told me that nearly every member in her chapter entered on the record of a North Carolina soldier.

Of the work done in this convention, I think the most important was the acceptance of Mr. Valentine's beautiful plans for the monument to our beloved president, Mr. Davis. I suppose some of you have seen his design. I have a description of it here. It is to cost complete $70,000. We have on hand $63,000, of which amount North Carolina gave $3,800, leading all the States in the contribution to the monument fund. She must not stop here, however, for Georgia has already promised to raise hers to $3,000 before the year is out.

Another thing finally decided was that the Veteran's Cross of Honor should go at his death, to his eldest lineal descendant, male or female, or, in case of his dying without heirs or without leaving it by will to some one, it must be placed in his State Museum, if there be one, or sent to the Museum in Richmond.

An amendment to the Constitution was adopted that any woman, wife of a Confederate soldier, could become a member of our organization.

The Chapter at Union Springs, Ala. endeavored to have passed a resolution asking all Chapters to abandon their Sunday observances of Memorial Day. This was lost, and it seems that Christian women all over the United States look upon their Sunday Memorial service as the most sacred and impressive of them all.

Mrs. Dowdell, of Alabama, presented a resolution for the appointment of a committee to confer with Veterans and Sons of Veterans and collect all the words that had been written to the tune of Dixie and report to the next convention the most suitable to be adopted as our National song.

The historical committee made a fine report and recommended a list of books for use in public schools and families, which list will soon be published.

A resolution was passed at a meeting of the state historians that hereafter state presidents and historians request publishers to send them notice when receiving works in which Southern history is touched upon.

Another attempt to get the right for state presidents to vote for chapters not represented by delegates or proxies was defeated after discussion.

There was a report from the Hampton Monumental committee showing $789.75 collected.

When the nominations were in order, Texas with her 133 votes very gracefully presented the name of our first president, Mrs. W. M. Parsley, for custodian of the Cross of Honor, but it was not voted on at all, Mrs. Olds withdrawing it immediately. 'Twas a great disappointment and surprise to the entire North Carolina delegation, for we had reason to believe that Mrs. Parsley would be elected.

A resolution was passed allowing the "Children of the Confederacy" seats upon the floor during the proceedings of the convention.

All members of the U. D. C. are instructed to stand when Dixie is played or sung.

The convention just closed showed an increase in membership, new chapters organized in various places, good work done in each of the States represented and increase of interest. These facts were proven by the State reports.

We were entertained in Charleston with lavish hospitality—not only by the Daughters of the Confederacy, but by the Sons of Veterans, the Colonial Dames, the Commercial Club, the Confederated Woman's Club, at the Confederate Home and by the city officials themselves. We visited on Saturday Forts Sumter and Moultrie, where the United States officers received us with great courtesy and politeness to the strains of Dixie and showed us through the forts. On Sunday there was a special service for the Daughters at the old Colonial church at Goose Creek, built in 1706. On the altar is the British coat of arms, which, they say, saved the church from destruction during the revolution.

Every moment of our stay in Charleston was made pleasant, and we will not soon forget the many courtesies and attentions that we were shown. MRS. JUNIUS DAVIS.

ENTERTAINED SHOP MEN.

Delightful Reception Last Evening at the Y. M. C. A.—Musical Programme. Dr. McClure's Address.

The reception to the shopmen of the A. C. L. at the Y. M. C. A. last evening, while not so largely attended, was nevertheless a delightful success. A goodly number of visitors with members of their families and lady friends were present and the various features of entertainment provided were of an exceptionally high order.

The chief feature of the evening was a fine address by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, the popular pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, on "The Dignity of Labor." Dr. McClure was presented by Mr. J. T. King, chairman of the Social Committee of the Y. M. C. A., under the auspices of which the reception was given, and the speaker engaged the undivided attention of his hearers every moment he spoke. Dr. McClure said the dignity of anything consists of its being worthy of respect and that the dignity of labor consisted in work done for the support of those dependent upon one, for helping in the home as a training for better usefulness in making the world better and preparing one's self for better usefulness, and that we had in this the example of Christ himself. In John 5 17, it is said "My Father Worketh Hitherto and I Work;" for God works in Providence and Christ works in salvation and the Holy Spirit works with both of these in grace and strength. Whether we work with hands, heads or hearts—and we ought to work with all—the true dignity of labor consists in doing the best with our own powers, helping others and making the world better.

The address was delivered in the auditorium of the building and seated on the stage besides Dr. McClure were Dr. W. C. Galloway and Secretary Charles Dushan, of the Y. M. C. A., Mr. J. T. King, Messrs. Z. E. Murrell, G. F. Quinn, J. A. McGeachy and W. L. Williams.

The exercises opened with a selection, "Sleep on Thy Pillow," by a male quartette consisting of Messrs. Wilbur Dosher, Albert Dosher, Willie McGirt and Willie Muse, with Mr. J. W. Fleet, accompanist. The next selection was a piano solo "Polonaise in A" (Chopin) by Mr. James Charles Craft, followed by a vocal duet by Mrs. F. A. Muse and Mr. Chas. Dushan with Mrs. Mattie L. Chasten, accompanist.

Following the address of Dr. McClure the audience was delighted with a soprano solo, selected, by Miss Martha Lee Horne with Prof. A. H. Yopp, accompanist. The concluding number was a humorous selection by the male quartette, "Jonah and the Whale."

The audience was then invited to another apartment of the building where delightful refreshments were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Association.

THE CONFEDERATE MONUMENT.

Description of Handsome Memorial as Made by the Designer.

In connection with the report of the general convention of the U. D. C. in Charleston last week by Mrs. Junius Davis to Cape Fear Chapter of this city, yesterday afternoon, the following description of the Confederate monument to be erected in Richmond will be of interest. It is from the News and Courier's account of the proceedings:

A semi-circular colonnade, with dimensions across the open end of about fifty-two feet, the columns supporting an ornamental cornice, the top of which would be eighteen feet from the ground level. This colonnade, or architrave, will carry a half circle seat, and this on a platform about three steps above ground. In the centre of this half circle will stand a bronze statue of Jefferson Davis, and behind him a Confederate column, fifty-six feet high, will rise, the top to carry a bronze statute of a woman. This latter is to be an allegorical figure, pointing Heavenward, while just beneneath, in the bronze inscription, will be the words, "Deo Vindices." The column will have other inscriptions, beginning low down with "Fort Sumter," and concluding with "Appomattox." The great seal of the Confederacy will be shown in bronze relief panels on the column.

"At the base of and between the granite columns of the architrave will be the coats of arms of the States that took part in the war for Southern independence and historical inscriptions on various and many tablets. The inscriptions are to be of historical character and will show some of the brave deeds of Southern men, from the earliest days of the colonies to 1861. The bronze statue of Davis will stand on a granite pedestal, simply inscribed with his name, date and place of birth and death, and the words, "The first and only President of the Confederacy." The figure will be made with one hand resting upon an open history and the other pointing to the deeds and acts of great Southerners in the times past, as much as to say to the stranger and student, "surrounded as I am by such truths and historic facts, how could I have done otherwise?"

Open Branch Office.

A branch of the E. M. Price Machinery Co., of Norfolk, has been established in Wilmington. The offices are in the Allen building, on Princess street, and Mr. J. H. Blake, of Norfolk, is in charge as manager. The company manufactures and sells all kinds of machinery, but makes a specialty of mill machinery.

— The Misses Short, of Washington, N. C., who have been the guests of their sister, Mrs. S. J. Springer, No. 505 Chesnut street, returned home yesterday morning.

LIFE CRUSHED OUT.

Owen D. Hansley Met Tragic Death in A. C. L. Yards Last Night.

CIRCUMSTANCES UNKNOWN.

His Mangled Body Found Under a Shifting Engine — Presumed That He Attempted to Board a Train to Return Home.

Owen D. Hansley, aged about 35 years and a truck farmer living near Castle Haynes, this county, was horribly crushed to death on the A. C. L. yards in Wilmington, near Fourth street bridge, last night about 7 o'clock. Exactly how the accident occurred will perhaps never be known. Yard Engine 101, in charge of Engineer Brown, started out to the "Y" about the hour indicated and the switchman on the pilot of the engine noticed the body. Engineer Brown and others went to investigate and saw the mangled form under the engine. Death must have resulted almost instantly.

Several theories were advanced last night as to the probable way in which the young man met his death. One is that he was coming up the yards to the station to board the 7 o'clock train, northbound, for his home and that in attempting to board the cars he was thrown under the wheels and crushed to death. This theory, however, is discredited by the fact that the young man was found on the tracks of the W. C. & A. railroad, over which the northbound train did not pass. Another theory is that in attempting to board the northbound train he was thrown to the W. C. & A. tracks, knocked senseless and that the shifting engine later came on and took the body under its pilot.

Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner; Dr. D. W. Bulluck, A. C. L. Surgeon, and Dr. C. T. Harper, city superintendent of health, were among the physicians who visited the scene, but the man was beyond all human aid. His right foot was cut off near the ankle and the other leg was almost severed from his body. His head was crushed in to so some extent and there were also bruises about the body and arms.

The remains were removed to the undertaking establishment of Mr. W. E. Yopp and prepared for burial. The funeral arrangements, however, will not be made until later.

The deceased was a son of Mr. W. M. Hansley, of Castle Haynes, a well known citizen and surveyor of the county. He leaves a wife and a little son as well as several brothers and sisters. Mrs. C. J. Jones, wife of Policeman Jones, is a sister of the young man and the funeral arrangements are being made by Mr. Jones. The death is indeed a sad one and the family has the sympathy of friends in their bereavement.

Other relatives surviving the deceased are the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. Ed. Griffin and Mrs. David Futch, of Wilmington; Mrs. Moses Padrick, Miss Sallie Hansley and Mr. W. M. Hansley, Jr. Mr. Calvin C. Bordeax, of this city, is a cousin of the deceased.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

— Mr. J. W. Freeman and his bride have returned from their wedding tour North.

— Mrs. A. D. McQueen and three children, Miss Bella and Masters Harry and Percy, left Wednesday night for Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, to make their home in that city.

Bids Opened This Morning.

Bids for the paving of Market street will be opened at the Mayor's office this morning at 11 o'clock. The Board of Aldermen will meet Saturday or Monday night to consider the committee's recommendation in reference thereto.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 20.

NEW CANAL TREATY WITH PANAMA.

The new Republic of Panama is not a month old yet, but in keeping with the haste of the Washington administration in its recognition of the new republic, Secretary Hay on the part of the United States, and Philippe Bunau-Varilla on the part of Panama, on Wednesday evening at Washington, signed a treaty for the construction by the United States of a canal across the Isthmus of Panama. It was decided to keep the terms of the treaty quiet, as the Associated Press dispatches tell us, for two reasons, viz.:

"First, because the unwritten law which obliges the State Department to await the pleasure of the Senate in the matter of publicity; and second, because the President has not yet determined when the convention shall be submitted to the Senate for ratification. His present purpose is to withhold it until there is a reasonable assurance that its consideration will not obstruct any of the legislation for which the present session of Congress has been called."

The Washington dispatches say that it is not likely that the new treaty will be sent to Congress before the regular session opens in December. It is believed that the Panamanian commission which arrived in Washington late Wednesday night will ratify the treaty at once and then it will be up to our Congress to complete the deed.

We are told that the terms of the treaty are very satisfactory to the President, the Cabinet and the Senate leaders and that a very hopeful feeling prevails in administration circles that it will be ratified without any great opposition. The fact is the terms of the treaty had been previously approved by the President and his advisers at a conference and by the Cabinet at a meeting on Tuesday. The treaty also meets the approval of leading Senators whom the President and Secretary Hay have taken into their confidence.

While the new treaty was withheld from the scrutiny of the press, it is said it is along the line of the Hay-Herran treaty, which was signed on the 22nd of last January, but that it is much more favorable to the United States. That is to be presumed, however, when the administration had it all its own way in saying what the treaty shall be.

In the treaty with Colombia the United States was to have a lease of the canal route for only a hundred years, whereas the treaty with Panama gives us the perpetual privilege and cessions that practically make the canal zone United States territory. The Hay-Herran treaty fixed the canal zone at six miles wide, whereas the new treaty grants the United States a strip ten miles wide to embrace five miles on either side of the canal. The United States are also given jurisdiction and rights for auxiliary canals extending from the main canal, and for works extending beyond the ten mile zone. Instead of a mixed court of American and Colombian judges to administer justice in the canal zone, as provided in the Hay-Herran treaty, the United States alone will appoints its judges and maintain its courts of justice and equity.

The following is also sent out from Washington as features of the new treaty:

The United States are to have exclusive control for police, sanitary and other purposes over the ten miles strip, but not actual sovereignty.

Ten million dollars, the same amount named in the Colombian treaty, is to be paid as a bonus by the United States to the republic of Panama, the amout to be paid on the exchange of the ratifications of the treaty. The government of Panama is also to receive an annual payment of $250,000 from the United States, beginning nine years after the ratification of the treaty. A similar provision was included in the treaty with Colombia.

The cities of Panama and Colon, except such lands within their limits as are now owned or possessed by the Panama Canal Company or the Panama Railroad Company, are not to be controlled by the United Srtes, its rights within them being limited to canal operations and maintenance. Within these cities police appointed by the government of Panama are to maintain order, but it is provided that if the United States should deem the administration of police and judicial functions as unsatisfactory it may assume police and judicial control.

Under the treaty the government of Panama authorizes the new Panama Canal Company to sell and transfer to the United States its rights, privileges, properties and concessions and its shares in the Panama railroad. The group of small islands in the Bay of Panama, named Perico, Naos, Culebra and Flamenco, are included with the canal zone, and the United States is to have the use and occupation of them. It cannot be ascertained that actual sovereignty over these islands is conferred on the United States, but that phase of the matter was considered. The United States acknowledges and recognizes the sovereignty of the republic of Panama over the canal strip and disavows any intention to impair it in any way whatever or to increase its territory at the expense of Panama, or of any of the sister republics in Central or South America, but on the contrary expresses a desire to strenghten the power of the republics on this continent had to promote, develop and aid their prosperity and independence. Panama agrees for its part, not to cede or lease to any foreign government any of the islands or harbors within its territory for the purpose of establishing fortifications, naval or coaling stations, military posts, docks or other works, that might interfere with the construction, maintenance, operation, protection and free use of the canal and auxillary works. In order to enable Panama to comply with this stipulation the United States agrees to give it the material support that may be required to prevent the occupation of those islands and guarantees the sovereignty, independence and integrity of Panama.

It is understood that the treaty contains a provision for the selection by the republic of Panama for a permanent capital.

SOUTHERN SUPPORT OF THE PRESIDENT.

It required no sage or seer to understand what would be the probable results of the refusal of the Bogota Government to ratify a treaty in which the people of Panama were so vitally interested. And foreseeing what was likely to occur, it was not only proper, but the absolute duty of our Government to keep thoroughly acquainted with the course of events in Panama through the employment of any such agencies as it might need for that purpose. It is a course that is pursued by all civilized governments upon earth to day; and had our State Department neglected or refused to take the necessary precautions to that end, then, indeed, would the criticism of our people of its incompetency have been severe and just.

Our interests in Panama were too many and too vital in their importance for our government to sit supinely by with folded arms and permit matters to drift without ascertaining the direction of the current and what the end might be. When Spanish-Americans engage in revolutions (and their recurrence is about as frequent, if not so regular, as the reappearance of the spots on the sun) they frequently permit their zeal to outstrip their discretion and their passions to cloud their judgment. When in this frame of mind they appear to loose their sense of distinction between the property and blood of citizens of the United States and the property and blood of their own people. This being true, will any reasonable person contend that the despatch of our war vessels to Panama, when it became manifest that trouble was at hand, was either more or less than right and proper? The very fact that two or three of those vessels were hurried away for that purpose when not really ready for service seems to acquit the administration of interference in Colombia's internal affairs; for if the United States government had been "the inspiration for the revolution," it does not seem probable that our authorites would have permitted themselves to be caught unprepared for all contingences.—New Orleans Times-Democrat, Dem.

Won't Roosevelt be sorry he gave out parts of that message that he wrote but did not send into Congress, the same having been done to defend him from a guilty charge of having had a hand in fomenting the revolution in Panama? It revealed the fact that his plan was not to encourage the Panamaian revolt, but for the United States to go down and seize the canal route by force. Some one who was wiser and more prudent than the Rough Rider, doubtless prevailed on the Rough Rider not to send such a foolish proposition to Congress. It was just as unwise in him to let his pigeon-holed message get into the hands of the newspaper men. Roosevelt is impulsive, but he is old enough to have better judgment.

If Shakespeare were living he would have to amend his plays and instead of saying "Lend me your ears," he would have to say "Sell me your ears." The young German who sold one of his ears to a New York doctor to be engrafted onto a millionaire, got $5,000 for it. According to this valuation we have just awoke to the realization that our available assets are $10,000.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— It is very gratifying indeed to note that a Virginia building at the St. Louis Exposition is assured. In view of the Jamestown project, our display at Missouri's big fair should be first-class.—Norfolk Public Ledger.

—— The United States cannot go into the business of fomenting rebellion against another power. It has not done so. Can it go, has it gone, into the business of recognizing and protecting farcial and sham republics? This is what the expected congressional discussion of the Panama question must clear up and answer to the satisfaction of just, conscientious and enlightened citizens jealous of the honor of the United States.—Chicago Evening Post.

—— The withdrawal of Mr. McClellan from the scene affords a fine opening for some ambitious and able man. The session will be important, and the voice of New York ought to be heard in the hall. With the exception of Mr Sulzer, who is handicapped by jealousies on his side of the chamber—the fate of many a strong and aggressive man—there is no speaker of established reputation among the Democratic members of the Empire State delegation. Should such a man appeal in Mr. McClellan's place the opportunity might be worth a great deal to him.—Washington Star.

—— "Heroes and Spies of The Civil War." This is the title of an exceedingly interesting book written by Major D. Humphreys, of this city, who was an original member of the Stonewall Brigade and afterwards a captain in Ashby's Cavalry —The volume, which is handsomely printed and bound, consists of a large number of interesting incidents connected with the great war between the States, in which the writer participated, he having had by reason of his position on the outposts of the army in Northern Virginia and the Valley excellent opportunities for taking in exciting events. Norfolk Public Ledger.

—— Is there a Republican of today who believes, in his heart, that his party follows Lincoln, or even attempts to put in practice the principles that dominated it from '60 to '65? Is there no wide and deep chasm between the party which refused to take San Domingo with Grant, and those who tolerated the annexation of Hawaii after the "conspiracy" of the revolution had been thoroughly exposed under Cleveland? Is there no radical departure from the doctrine that scorned to take Cuba and the conquest of the Philippines and the "absorption" of Panama? Lincoln stood on a rock all his life; where does Roosevelt stand on the records of the past?—Jacksonville Times-Union.

— Salisbury Sun: With Jim Crow cars, waiting rooms, hotels, Jim Crow bibles at Wilmington and a Jim Crow heaven, "white supremacy" is guaranteed forevermore.

— Salisbury Truth-Index: Representative Kluttz has introduced a joint resolution in the House of Representatives providing for an income tax, and also for an appropriation for building a macadam road from Salisbury to the National cemetery.

— Durham Herald: Wait until either Greensboro or Winston discevers that the candinate from the other town is a little ahead and then maybe we will have some fun. —— Mr. Gudger will be fortuate if his job does not grow to the point where it will take a bigger man to fill it.

— Greensboro Telegram: To Greensboro people one of the most interesting questions connected with the meeting of the Methodist Conference at High Point was, what action will it take in regard to the Greensboro Female College? Upon inquiry, it is found that the conference has done all that could be expected or desired.

— Tarboro Southerner: The county and the town are alive with enthusiastic committees working in the interest of the Confederate Bazaar to be held December 10th-12th for the Edgecombe Confederate Monument. It is gratifying to see that old Edgecombe is at last thoroughly aroused to doing its duty by the boys of '61 as they, when the cause came, did their duty.

— The Salisbury Sun: Ground has been broken by the Basinger Carriage and Harness Company, which will employ 25 men and have an up-to-date equipment of machinery. Wagons will be a specialty. Delivery wagons will be the especial make of the shop, though buggies and carriages will be turned out too, and these are to be of high order. Fire and hose wagons will also be included in this general manufactory.

— Greensboro Patriot: The receipts on our market for the past week have not been very large, yet they were as large as any week of this season and we are pleased to note that prices on all grades continue well up to the nigh water mark. The offerings for the past week contained quite a lot of common to medium tobacco, but there were some good to fine wrappers, which went off at very satisfactory prices. Some of them sold well up around the fifties, and our sales have been so lively that it reminds us more of the activity of the market about a year ago than anything we have seen in a long time.

— Clinton Democrat: Mr. W. B. Stewart is erecting a brick building on the northeast corner of Court and Vance streets, and Mr. T. M. Ferrell has torn out the little shanty between Hanstein's and Sanders' drug store, preparatory to the erection of a brick store in its place. Clinton will be solidly and attractively built up after a while at the rate we are going. ——At the called meeting of the Board of County Commissioners on Monday, it was decided to build vaults on the court house square, just outside the court house for the purpose of securely keeping the funds and records of the county. Plans and specifications for which will be submitted at the regular meeting of the Board on the first Monday in December, when some plan will be agreed upon.

— Clinton Democrat: Mr. Bethune, our bank president, and Mr. J. H. Hill, tobacco buyer for the American Tobacco Company, went hunting one night last week and caught three large coons and one large 'possum. —— Mr. and Mrs. Henry Herring and four children, Misses Lena, Louise, Rebecca and Rachel, leave the latter part of this week for Greensboro, where they will make their home. Quite a number of Sampson people will have moved to that beautiful city after awhile, including those already there, and among whom we recall just now, Colonel and Mrs. W. S. Thompson, Thomas J. Murphy, Esq., a daughter of Mr. E. S. Williams and Miss Cleone Hobbs. In a short while Mr. A. Hobbs and daughter, Miss Mattie, will remove there, and also Mr. F. P. Hobbs and family. We are loathe to give up these good people from our town.

— Dr. J. V. Jay, the Buncombe county physician who last month killed his three children with a claw hammer was brought into court at Asheville and arraigned on Wednesday. A special venire was ordered and the case was set for trial next Tuesday. The attorneys for Jay will contend that the man was insane at the time the act was committed and also that his mind is now unbalanced. They will make a vigorous fight to have Jay sent to an asylum. The people of Barnardville, the section where the crime was committed, are aroused over the possibility that Jay may escape the death penalty. Mrs. Jay's father, Thos. Dillingham, has declared that only hanging for Jay will satisfy him and those of the Barnardville section. He ridicules the idea that Jay is or ever was insane.

A CRAZY MAN

FOUND EATING AN EGG, SHELL AND ALL.

Rational people thought it was awful, as the shell had no food value, and was, of course, indigestible and injurious.

It is just as crazy for rational people to swallow a lot of cod liver oil, to get the medicinal curatives from it, as it was for the crazy man to eat the egg, shell and all.

Modern science has proved that the oil, or greasy part of cod liver oil, has no value whatever, and only upsets the stomach and retards recovery. It is the medicinal elements which are enveloped in the cod liver oil, of which there are about fifty, that represent all the tonic and curative power of the famous old remedy.

A preparation containing all the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but entirely free from oil or grease, must, therefore, be the very best tonic reconstructor possible. Such is Vinol. It positively does contain every one of the fifty odd medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, fresh and sweet, just as the egg shell contains the nutritious food, and we throw away the useless, indigestible oil, just as you throw away the egg shell.

Knowing its wonderful medicinal and curative power, we guarantee to restore health and strength to the following or refund their money without question:

Run down, debilitated, tired, overworked people; old people, weak women, nursing mothers, puny, ailing children, convalescents, or to people suffering with hard colds, hacking coughs, incipient consumption and bronchitis. Vinol never fails to make rich, red blood and give strength to the weak and health to the sick. Try it on our guarantee. If it doesn't do you any good it won't cost you a cent. Robert R. Bellamy, Druggist.

A Delicious Salad.

Here are directions for making a delicious salad: Boil a dozen eggs fifteen minutes; then let the cold water run on them till they are cold. Break the eggs, remove the yolks and put them in a bowl. Throw away the whites, as the hard boiled white of an egg is absolutely indigestible. Take six large ripe tomatoes, peel them; then, without scalding, cut them in quarters in a salad bowl. Cover the top of the tomatoes with a thin layer of Spanish onions shredded very thin. Chop fine the hard boiled yolks of the eggs and spread them over the onions. Garnish the whole with a fringe of parsley. Make a French salad dressing with an extra amount of salt, a dash or two of tabasco and a generous teaspoonful of dry mustard. Mix in and pour over the salad. Stand the bowl in the refrigerator after dressing is poured over and let the salad get thoroughly cold before serving.

The Needful Couch.

"A room without a couch is only half furnished," says an authority on homemaking in the New York Tribune. "Life is so full of ups and downs that often all that saves the sanity of the mentally jaded and physically exhausted fortune fighter is the occasional half hour rest or momentary loss of consciousness on the breakfast room lounge or the old sofa in the sitting room." A long, comfortable couch on which one may throw himself, boots and brains, unmindful of tidies and tapestries, is a veritable means of grace. The need of a good, healthy nap is often mistaken for suicidal tendencies. Instead of a speedy introduction to a future state, business men and working women want systematic doses of dozing, and next best to a mossy bank in the shade of an old oak is the low, long couch in the dusky corner, where tired nature can turn her face to the wall and dream away the blues.

Hints on Cleaning.

Marble ornaments may be cleaned if only soiled with dust by washing with a strong soapsuds. Rinse in warm water and dry with a soft cloth. Brass may be cleansed and given a brilliant polish by washing with alum boiled in strong lye, in the proportion of one ounce of alum to one pint of lye. Wash willow furniture with warm water and pure soap, wipe very dry with a soft cloth, then dry in the sunshine or near a fire. The polished portions of stoves may be protected from rust by making a paste of fresh lime and water and applying a thick coating with a brush over the surface requiring preservation. By this method grates and fire irons can be kept free from rust in an empty house for months. Leather which is dull and stained can often be restored by applying oil and vinegar well mixed.

Coffee Jelly.

Coffee jelly makes an excellent substitute for the hot infusion at dinner and is free from some of the disadvantages of coffee in the ordinary form. In hot weather it may be found more agreeable than iced coffee, and the astringent principles of the coffee berry are nullified by the gelatin, which is cooling and soothing to the stomach. Care must be taken in making the jelly, as in preparing the drink, to use a sufficient quantity of coffee.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, November 19.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of five to eleven points and following the call gained another point or two on covering and room buying encouraged by the recovery in Liverpool, which at the hour of the local opening was a little better than expected, rather smaller receipts than estimated, and the continued cold weather in the cotton belt. Then it was observed that the big bull leaders were not supporting as aggressively as expected and a little later the bears made a drive at the market, which, in connection with heavy realizing, caused a decline to a level net two to four points lower. Following this the market ruled very irregular but generally strong on more aggressive buying by leading bull interests, reports that a Southern trading company had reduced their crop estimate to ten million bales despite the recent heavy receipts, and predictions for a decreasing movement which were backed up by estimates for tomorrow's leading points that were rather under the recent average, though still large as compared with last year. At any rate prices in the middle of the afternoon showed a net gain of eighteen to twenty five points on the active months and room sentiment seemed very bullish. Just before the close, however, there was again heavy realizing by the scalping contingent and the market eased off, being finally barely steady at a net gain of six to thirteen points. Sales were estimated at 600,000 bales. Beginning with an early estimate of 62,000 bales for the day, port receipts were later reduced to 53,000 bales, and the actual receipts turned out still less than that, though well above last year's figures. Exports were fair. A feature of the afternoon market was the sale of 8,000 bales of November in a block at nine points below the December quotation. Private advices received from Texas indicated that the cold wave had done considerable damage and it seems that the trade still expects a bullish statement from the government in the early part of next month.

ALL WRONG.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Backache.

Don't mistake the cause of backache.

To be cured you must know the cause.

It is wrong to imagine relief is cure.

Backache is kidney ache.

You must cure the kidneys.

A Wilmington resident tells you how this can be done.

R. F. Rowan, clerk with L. W. Davis' Clothing House, residing on Castle street between Sixth and Seventh, says: "I strained myself lifting a heavy box, and suffered great pain across my back for a long time. I used plasters and liniments but they did me no good. I could hardly stand up straight, my back was so weak. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in our newspapers I went to Bellamy's drug store and got a box. I felt better the next day and continued using them according to directions and my back regained its old strength. I was simply surprised at the result. I will gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills every time for backache."

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

How the Poore Family Announced Their Return.

"Now, Jennie," quoth Mrs. Poore as she descended to breakfast, "have you thoroughly mastered that story about the Italian marquis falling in love with you at Narragansett Pier this summer?"

"Yes, mamma."

"And Mary," to her second daughter, "you haven't forgotten all the details of the flirtation with the New York millionaire that I took so much pains to coach you up in? Remember, it happened while we were at Saratoga."

"I'll not forget, mamma."

"Of course, John, you'll bear in mind that you became engaged to a California heiress at Newport?"

"Trust in me, mother."

"Well, if you all know your parts," and Mrs. Poore breathed a sigh of relief, "I suppose we may as well get home today. The Uppertens next door arrived yesterday. After dinner, John, you get those empty trunks out of the barn and have them brought around to the front door by an express wagon. Then we'll open the shutters and get a breath of fresh air. It's been insufferably close in here all summer, and we'll all be glad to get outdoors again. Be sure to gush a great deal, girls, about the charming time we've had at the seashore."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Pardoned.

"I spent all the money I had in the world on flowers for you, darling."

"Well, dear, it wasn't your fault that you didn't have more."

Property Found on Criminals.

"The question as to what final disposition is made of money and jewelry found in the possession of criminals was frequently asked me when I was on the force two years ago," said an ex-captain of the New York police force. "As a rule, everything found upon an arrested criminal which obviously is not his lawful property is held in trust, as it were, by the police for possible claimants. If no claimants turn up the property is returned to the criminal on being released from his term of imprisonment, provided the commissioner of police is perfectly satisfied that the property actually does belong to him.

"If the commissioner has reasons to think otherwise, however, the articles, often valuable, are held indefinitely or until it is certain that they will never be claimed by their rightful owners, when the stuff is finally disposed of and the proceeds handed over to benefit one or another of the various police funds.

"There are certain things, however, which the police never return to those on whom they have been found, such as burglarizing tools, firearms, gambling devices, begging letters—anything, in fact, that might be used by criminals again in their nefarious occupations."

COSTLY GENEROSITY.

Early one morning recently before inspecting some regiments on the maneuvering ground the present "Moltke" of the German army, Count Haeseler, went into the regimental canteen and asked for 5 cents' worth of bread and sausage, such as is supplied to the ordinary soldier. The man in charge thought he would do himself a good turn by handing the general an extra large piece of either luxury. Later in the morning, when halt had been called, the general ordered the soldiers to produce the rations supplied by the canteen for 5 cents. Naturally those shown were not of such satisfactory dimensions as had been sold to the chief. He said quietly: "Take your rations back to the canteen and tell Herr M. that Count Haeseler commands him to give each of you as large a portion as he had himself for the same money. My 5 cents is not worth more than yours."

The King's Coffee.

King Edward is becoming an inveterate coffee drinker. Wherever he goes his Egyptian coffee maker, Emin Abraham, follows with his little coffee mill and after luncheon and dinner prepares a special brew for his majesty and the fortunate few who are privileged to taste it. Emin is able to hold this little mill in his hands when grinding the berries, a particular kind, and the coffee is served in very small cups which have almost the appearance of egg cups. It is of course served by Emin himself in all the glory of oriental drapery. The people who have tasted the king's coffee are very few, and not all of those admire the flavor of it, though none would dare to say so, knowing his majesty has such a high opinion of its quality.—London Tatler.

Hard to Tell.

"What is that you're baking there, my dear," inquired young Mr. Newlywed, "bread or some cake?"

"I don't know. I have not finished yet," replied the young bride.—Philadelphia Press.

Literary people should live as near as possible to nature without getting too far away from the publishers.—Puck.

A Superlative Expression.

During an attempt to "develop" the idea and use of the superlative degree of the adjective the following conversation took place:

Teacher.—I see a pretty girl, and you see one who is better looking than the first. Now, how can you describe the second girl by the use of the word pretty?

Pupil—The second girl is prettier.

Teacher—Very good. Now, suppose you see a girl who is better looking than either of the others, what would you call her?

Pupil—I should call her a daisy.

An Invitation Declined.

A philanthropic company of actors undertook to amuse the patients of a lunatic asylum. The principal comedian was carrying everything before him, shaking the house with laughter and filling the eyes of his audience with tears of joyous hilarity, when a voice from the back, breaking through the laughter, plunged the whole play into tragedy. Said the voice, "You'd better stay here!"—Kansas City Independent.

Soldier Ants.

Among ants there is much the same division of labor as among bees and a more complicated series of individuals, for we find not only the neuters, which perform all the working functions of the hive, the males and the queens, but we have in some species a special class known as soldier ants, which have wonderfully powerful heads and jaws and perform no other duties than to defend the formicary and make war.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck, and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. ## THE NEW REPUBLIC.

Foreign Holders of Colombian Bonds Want Panama to Assume Her Share of the Debt.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The council of foreign bondholders has received a communication from Amsterdam saying that the Chamber of Commerce there will request the government of The Netherlands not to recognize the republic of Panama until some arrangement is arrived at whereby the new republic assumes an equitable share of the Colombia debt. The majority of the bonds are held in England and Holland.

The British Foreign Office has replied to the Colombian bondholders' request by assuring them of its interest in their case, but not committing the government to any specific course of action.

The secretary of the council of foreign bondholders, in an interview with a representative of the Associated Press to-day said:

"We have not the slightest objection to Panama's independence, and think the American action calculated to promote the benefits of all concerned. Our view is that Panama, having greatly benefitted by the money sunk in the country by British and other bondholders, should assume a certain portion of the debt of the crew, to which it recently belonged."

When asked what he considered to be a reputable proposition, the Secretary replied: "Probably one-third, but that should be left to an arbitrator. The total Colombian debt, with interest, is $15,000,000.

"So far as the British bondholders are concerned, we would rather accept the bonds of the new republic than anything issued by Colombia. So, if Panama does not wish to give up cash, an issue of bonds on her part or the acceptance of responsibility for part of the present Colombian issue would be quite acceptable."

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Summarily Disposes of the "Open Shop" Issue—The Miller Case.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, MASS., Nov. 19.—The American Federation of Labor disposed summarily of the "open shop" issue as raised in the case of William A. Miller, now employed in the government printing office at Washington, and the Miller case itself to-day, by unanimously declaring in favor of the unionship in government as well as private enterprises, and by petitioning President Roosevelt to re-examine the evidence offered against Miller, and, if verified, remove Miller from the service. Although the resolution adopted presented the Federation's view on both "open shop" and the Miller case, the issues are kept entirely distinct.

The re-examining of the Miller case is not requested because Miller is a non-unionist, a circumstance formerly urged as a reason for his removal, but because the Federation believes Miller "is totally unfit to be in charge of working people."

The Miller resolutions declare that "Miller has been proved in affidavits and court records to be a bigamist, perjurer, defaulter and one totally unfit to be in charge of working people; that he has violated civil service rules and the revised statutes, all of which demand dismissal; and that his retention in government employ is a menace to production of creditable work because of dissatisfaction with his methods as foreman."

Resolutions were adopted favoring the construction of the Panama canal by citizens of the United States; urging that the Chinese exclusion act be made to apply in the Philippine and Hawaiian islands, and favoring woman suffrage and the election of the president and United States senators by direct vote.

PROF. BASSETT RESIGNS.

Patrons Were Threatening to Withdraw Pupils and Methodist Churches Were Demanding His Dismissal.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 19.—Prof. Spencer Bassett, of the chair of English, Trinity College, Durham, has tendered his resignation and the trustees will act on it Tuesday night. This comes because of the fierce criticism of the press on his article in the Atlantic Quarterly on the negro question, in which he stated that Booker Washington is the greatest man, except General Lee, born in the South in a hundred years. College patrons were threatening to withdraw pupils and Methodist churches were demanding Bassett's dismissal.

KILLED AND ROBBED.

A Telegraph Operator at a Station on the New York Central.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Nov. 19.—W. H. Clendenen, a telegraph operator at Brown, Pa., a station fifteen miles north of Williamsport, on the Beech Creek division of the New York Central railroad, was found dead in the telegraph tower shortly after 7 o'clock to night. At 6:50 o'clock the operator at Oak Grove, Pa., on the same road, received this message from Clendenen: "Send switch engine quick to me, I am being murdered by ——." The wire opened and not another word came. A switch engine was sent to the scene. The body was found lying under the desk, the head crushed in. A bloody spike lay on the floor beside it. Robbery apparently was the motive, the watch and money of the operator being missing.

THE FRIENDS OF CUBA VICTORIOUS.

House Passes the Bill Making Effective the Cuban Reciprocity Treaty.

THE VOTE STOOD 335 TO 21.

Dissenting Votes About Equally Divided Between Republicans and Democrats. Democrats Sought to Last to Secure Amendments to Bill.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, November 19.—The House to-day, by a rising vote of 335 to 21, passed the bill to make effective the Cuban reciprocity treaty. The dissenting votes were about equally divided between Republicans and Democrats, but there was no record vote, the minority having too few votes to order the yeas and nays. The Democrats, under the leadership of Mr. Williams, sought to the last to secure amendments to the bill in accordance with the action of the Democratic caucus, but were defeated steadily.

Mr. Williams made the final effort when he tried to have the bill recommitted to the Ways and Means Committee, with instructions to amend, but a point of order under the special rule providing for a vote on the bill without intervening motion was sustained.

Mr. Cannon received the applause of the Democratic side when he entertained the appeal from his ruling made by Mr. Williams, the Speaker saying he preferred to err, if he erred at all, in giving the House the right to express its will. The appeal was tabled by a strict party vote.

The debate begun Monday was continued up to within a few minutes of the hour of 4 o'clock, the time appointed to take a vote on the final passage of the bill. Mr. Williams closed the debate for his side and made an arraignment of the Republican policy of protection. Mr. McCall, Republican of Massachusetts, made the closing speech on the Republican side, others speaking on that side being Mr. Hepburn, of Iowa, and Mr. Watson, of Indiana. Mr. Broussard, Democrat of Louisiana opposed the bill and Mr. DeArmond, of Missouri, supported it. The announcement of the passage of the bill caused only a slight demonstration.

Mr. McClellan, mayor-elect of New York, occupied the Speaker's chair for a while to-day as chairman of the committee of the whole house.

Mr. Williams, of Mississippi, answering a statement on the Republican side that the Democrats forced the talking on this bill, referred to his proposal to have a vote on the minority amendment and then vote on the bill without debate.

Replying to Mr. Watson, Mr. Williams said: "Protection is a system of taxation whereby many are robbed in order that a few may be hot-housed by legislation into artificial prosperity."

Mr. Williams charged that the Republicans did not dare enter upon tariff revision for fear it would open the doors to too extended a revision. Referring to the power of the Republicans to revise, he said they had a majority in the House and Senate and a very large majority in the White House.

He asked them if they were afraid of their own common sense. Addressing himself to the majority he said some of their pledges of prosperity were already collapsing. The people, he said, were beginning to find that their laws were keeping in power not only monopolies but public cheats. Referring to Mr. Grosvenor, he said he was "a most exuberent prophet," adding that he (Williams) would attempt no prophecies.

Mr. Lacey, Ohio, having called Mr. Williams' attention to an error in the date of a letter quoted, said he did not want the gentleman from Mississippi to make a mistake so early in his leadership. "The good thing about this side, if the leader makes a mistake he will have no followers, but if the leader on that (Republican) side makes a mistake, you continue to follow him," said Mr. Williams.

Mr. Williams, in supporting his contention for an amendment to the treaty, said that it would take only a few weeks to secure it.

Mr. Payne answered that it would take months.

"Suppose it does take months," asked Mr. Williams, to which Mr. Payne replied: "The gentleman is trying to help the sugar trust by his amendment."

"Well," responded Mr. Williams, "if I am, the Lord knows I am unconscious of it. (Laughter). But I will say that the length of time it would take would depend upon the care and strenuosity brought into action at the other end of the avenue. If you could just half way approximate the celerity that has lately actuated this administration in connection with the new born republic of Panama, you would have it back here in three days." (Laughter and applause on the Democratic side.)

"Oh, well, but the mind of all the mighty Czars in another place have not operated on this Panama business yet and they have operated on this treaty" said Mr. Payne. "They will operate quickly in some way or other," said Mr. Williams," provided the trust is not hurt. (Laughter and applause on the Democratic side.) They are waiting for us."

Mr. Broussard, Democrat, Louisiana, opposed the measure and said it was not in line with Democratic tariff reform. He said the President had infringed on the rights of the house. The trust, he said, would profit by the reduction of the tariff on sugar, and no benefits would accrue to the consumer.

Mr. Hepburn, Republican, of Iowa, followed, stating at the outset of his remarks that he would vote for the bill, but with reluctance. He said he was not one of those who believed we owed Cuba anything.

Mr. Sulzer, Democrat, of New York, said he would vote for the bill, as it was a little step in the right direction. He entered his protest against the power, which he said rests with the committee on rules, saying the House no longer was a deliberative body. "That is a speciacle of commercial selfishness; monopolistic greed and politic short sightedness the Republican party presents to-day," he said, declaring that it is so wedded to its protective tariff policy that it would rather witness injury to Cuba than to break down its present system.

Mr. DeArmond, Democrat, of Missouri, said the Republicans generally had spoken against the pending bill, but declaring at the same time that they intended to vote for it.

Mr. McCall, Republican, of Massachusetts, said his deductions from a study of the effect of the treaty were that the reduction of duty on sugar would not materially affect its price in this country, and that consequently the Cuban planter would get the benefit of the saving on the tariff.

The House adjourned until Tuesday.

CARRIE NATION AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

Insists on Seeing the President—Has to be Removed by Force—Fined $25 in the Police Court

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, November 19.—Mrs. Carrie A. Nation appeared in the principal role of a sensational scene at the White House to-day. Her request to see the President being refused, she became violent and had to be taken from the executive offices by two police officers. As she was being escorted from the building, she shouted at the top of her voice, gesticulating violently:

"I am going to pray for a prohibition President, and we will have one—one who will represent the people and not the distillers and brewers. You may put me out of the building, but if a brewer or liquor dealer were here he would have been admitted at once."

Mrs. Nation said she wanted to see the President about several matters. "I understand he carried a box full of liquors on his Western trip; that he smoked cigarettes on the steps of the capitol at Topeka; that his flag has on it a coat of arms. Are these things so?" Assured that she had been misinformed, she replied: "Oh, well, I want to see him anyhow and have a talk with him."

Presently she was informed that the President could not see her. "Well, that's funny," she cried out. Remarking on the number of United States Senators and Representatives who were passing in and out of the President's offices, she continued: "I see a lot of men going in and out of his offices. I should like to know why they can see the President and we mothers and sisters of the country can't get near him."

While she was awaiting her turn to talk to Mr. Loeb, several Representatives happened to pass through the office. Mrs. Nation immediately began to lecture them on the evils of the liquor traffic. "Madame," broke in Secretary Loeb, "I am compelled to request you to discontinue your talk. If you want to deliver a lecture you will have to go outside. These are my offices."

"You are mistaken," shouted Mrs. Nation, hysterically. "These are the people's offices. I propose to do what I can right here and now to crush the liquor reptile. You tell me that the President is too busy to see me, but I tell you that I don't believe it."

Secretary Loeb beckoned to the police officers, who removed Mrs. Nation by force and escorted her out of the grounds.

Mrs. Nation went direct to the capitol and appeared in the Senate gallery a few minutes before the Senate was called to order at noon. She was soon discovered and surrounded by pages and messenger boys, and until prohibited by the Senate officials, did a thriving business in selling her cards with a tiny hatchet attached. She left the gallery when asked to do so and went to the Marble room and talked with Senator Cockrell.

She had been absent from the gallery about ten minutes when she reappeared at one of the doors in the ladies' gallery and raising her right hand far above her head shouted in a loud and clear tone: "Saloons are anarchy, saloons are treason and conspiracy."

The Senate was at the time engaged in receiving bills, but Mrs. Nation's voice was so much more penetrating than the reading clerk's that it was distinctly heard throughout the Senate chamber and even in the corridors. The incident created a ripple of excitement.

Mrs. Nation was expelled from the gallery and turned over to the local police. She was arraigned in police court on a charge of disorderly conduct and fined $25, which she paid.

A HORRIBLE AFFAIR.

Thirty-one Killed and Fifteen Injured in a Collision on the Big Four Railroad in Illinois

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PEORIA, ILL., Nov. 19.—Thirty-one men were killed and at least fifteen injured in a head-end collision between a freight train and a work train on the Big Four railroad, between Mackinaw and Tremont, this afternoon. Bodies of twenty-six men have been taken from the wreck, which is piled thirty feet high on the tracks. Five bodies remain buried under the huge pile of broken timber, twisted and distored iron and steel.

On a bank at the side of the track lie the bodies of the victims, cut, bruised and mangled in a horrible manner. So far twelve only have been identified, the remaining being unrecognizable, even by those who knew them and are aware of the fact that they are among the dead. The victims are residents of neighboring towns.

All the dead and most of the injured were members of the work train, the crews on both engines jumping in time to save their lives. The collision occurred in a deep cut at the beginning of a sharp curve, neither train being visible to the crew of the other until they were within fifty feet of each other. The engineers set the brakes, sounded the whistles and then leaped from their cabs, the two trains striking with such force that the sound was heard for miles. A second after the collision the boiler of the work train engine exploded, throwing heavy iron bars and splinters of wood 300 feet.

Conductor John W. Judge, of Indianapolis, who had charge of the freight train, received orders at Urbana to wait at Mackinaw for the work train, which was due there at 2:40 P. M. Instead of doing this he failed to stop. The engineer of the work train, George Brecker, had also received orders to pass the freight at Mackinaw and was on the way to that station. The work train was perhaps five minutes late and was running at full speed.

One of the last bodies recovered was that of Wm. Bailey, of Mackinaw, who had been lifted thirty feet into the air and held in place by two steel rails which had been pushed up between the engine and the tender of the work train.

The dead will lie on the bank all night or until the arrival of the coroner of Tazewell county in the morning. Out of thirty-five men who constituted the crew of the work train, only four are living and two of these are seriously injured.

The cold weather is proving an important factor in stamping out the yellow fever at Laredo, Texas, and if it shall continue another week it is likely the disease will be wiped out. The official bulletin to-night shows: New cases, 19; deaths, 2; total cases to date, 982; total deaths, 96.

Science Hall, on the campus of the University of Georgia, Athens, was burned last night. Loss, $50,000; insurance, $25,000. The departments of biology and chemistry were housed in the building. The fire originated from a defective furnace.

TWO EVENTS CHEER THE ISTHMIANS.

The Junta Returned the Official Visit of Admiral Glass on Board His Flagship.

FRENCH CONSUL SERENADED.

No Fear of Demonstration Against Americans at Bogota—The Panama Canal Treaty Will be Ratified at Panama Between Dec. 7 and 10.

By Cable to the Morning Star

PANAMA, Nov. 19.—Two events of great magnitude to them, cheered the hearts of the isthmians yesterday. The junta, accompanied by Minister Espriella Morales and Ricardo Arias, returned the official visit of Rear Admiral Glass on board the flagship Marblehead. On boarding the cruiser they were received by Admiral Glass and the commanders of the United States warships Wyoming and Boston. All the American vessels manned ship, the flag of the republic of Panama was hoisted and salutes of twenty-one guns were fired by each ship, Senor, Ricardo Arias, in the name of the junta, said the interests of Panama and the United States were so closely interwoven that the latter had not hesitated to stand, it might be said, as sponsor of Panama to the world in being the first to recognize its independence.

Admiral Glass, in reply, said that one of the happiest moments of his life was when saluting for the first time the flag of the republic of Panama. He drank to its future and to the welfare of its founders.

The second event of great importance of the Panamanians was the receipt of news from the Associated Press that France had recognized the republic. Large crowds, with a band of music, went to the residence of the French consul, who very courteously received his numerous friends amidst frenzied cheers for France.

COLON, Nov. 19.—General Reyes, Ospina and Holguin, appointed as commissioners by the Colombian government to come to the isthmus and negotiate for terms of peace looking to the "saving of the national honor," arrived here to-night on the French steamer Canada.

There was great excitement on the arrival of the Canada. Hundreds of persons flocked to the neighborhood of the dock but were prevented from reaching the vessel by marines who were landed from the United States warships as soon as the Canada was sighted. The marines now guard the wharf.

General Reyes has declined invitations to come aboard the Dixie and the Mayflower.

The commissioners sent a telegram to the junta at Panama asking for a conference there to-morrow, but the Panama government declined to grant the request. It is expected however, that a representative delegation from Panama will arrive here to-morrow and confer with the commissioners on board the Canada.

The Colombian generals were not permitted to land at Colon and it is considered absolutely certain that their mission, like that of the commissioners from the department of Bolivar, will prove altogether futile.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The State Department has received a cablegram from Minister Beaupre, dated Bogota, two days ago, saying that the excitement was abating.

Minister Beaupre also stated that he was finding great difficulty in convincing the Colombian government that the United States meant what it said regarding its action toward the isthmian republic.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—It has been decided that the Panama canal treaty shall be ratified at Panama. The commission which arrived here last night will sail December 1st for that State, arriving there on the 7th. It is expected that between that date and December 10th the treaty will be ratified.

A SENSATIONAL SUICIDE.

Mrs. Brennan Kills Herself Because of Losing Her Beauty.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Because her face had been marred by ill health, Mrs. Lulu W. Brennan has killed herself by the use of chloroform at the Del Prado Hotel.

This reason for the suicide developed at the coroner's inquest to-day. Mrs. Brennan was the wife of a wealthy citizen of Denver, and up to four years ago, when she contracted blood poisoning, she reigned among the belles of Denver society. She felt the loss of her beauty deeply, and last October came to Chicago and placed herself in the hands of a "beauty doctor." Even at the hotel her face was covered by a veil.

"Must I always be the veiled woman? Will people always stare at my face because it is ugly, just as they were once attracted by my beauty?" This complaint burst from the afflicted woman recently, according to her maid. On another occasion she said to an uncle living in Chicago: "Death is preferable to be in this condition." But she laughed and no more was thought of her words.

The verdict of the coroner's jury was that Mrs. Brennan committed suicide while insane.

AFFAIRS IN SAN DOMINGO.

Another Attack Made on the City—The Situation Desperate.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

SAN DOMINGO, Wednesday, Nov. 18.—Yesterday at noon, another severe attack was made on the city without effect, The rebels had many killed and wounded, but the government losses were small. The firing continued during the night, the insurgents using heavy cannon.

The situation here is desperate. The poor are suffering for necessities and prices of provisions are rising. The sanitary condition of the city, however, is good.

QUARANTINE RAISED.

No Cases of Yellow Fever Reported in San Antonio for Ten Days.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, Nov. 19.—The official proclamation of Governor Lanham, raising the quarantine against San Antonio, which has been on since October 23rd, went into effect to day and towns and counties all over Texas have been lifting their local quarantines. Train service will be resumed on all railroads to-morrow.

The proclamation of the governor recites there is now no yellow fever in San Antonio, none having been reported for ten days, and that the sanitary condition is perfect.

LITTLE CHANGE IN STREET CAR STRIKE.

Serious Riot Quelled by Vigorous Work of Police—Alfred Grannis, a Broker, Badly Beaten.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Despite the united efforts to-day of Mayor Carter H. Harrison the and aldermanic mediation committee to bring about a peaceable adjustment of the Chicago City Railroad's strike, there is little change in the situation to-night. Some progress was made to-day, but nothing was accomplished. To a question as to the prospects of a settlement of the strike, Mayor Harrison said:

"Well, I am more hopeful than I was after our conference last night, when the outlook was decidedly gloomy. Both sides seem willing to continue negotiations and while there is life there is hope."

A serious riot occurred this morning at 38th street and Wentworth avenue, which was quelled by the vigorous work of the police. They were compelled to charge the mob and use their clubs freely. The mob let fly a shower of stones at two cars, demolishing the windows and causing four passengers on the first car to flee for their lives. The mob then swarmed upon the cars and had begun to beat the train crews when the police arrived. The mob, which had greatly increased by this time, was in an ugly temper and refused to move. The police drew their revolvers and clubs and charged at once. There was a warm fight which lasted about two minutes and then the mob broke and fled in all directions. A number of those engaged in the rioting were arrested.

Alfred Grannis, a broker forty-three years old, was attacked and badly beaten to-day in a fight growing out of a dispute with two young men as to the street car strike. Grannis, who sided with the steps taken in placing policemen on cars, received a blow in the face which felled him. Before he could regain his feet the men set upon him, kicked him and pummelled him severely in the face and about the body, rendering him unconscious. His assailants were pursued by an angry crowd which was only prevented from wreaking vengeance upon them by a policeman who arrested them.

Cars on the Halstead street line were started to day. Trainmen at both the Rock Island and Pennsylvania and the Belt Line crossings succeeded in getting long lines of freight cars across Halstead street as the cars were approaching, causing some delay.

At the Belt line it was necessary for the police to compel the trainmen to split a train in order to clear the way.

Sixty teamsters in the employ of the street railway company struck to-day.

HOMICIDE IN FLORIDA.

H. O. Richard, a Deputy Sheriff, Killed by the Bennett Brothers.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LAWLEW, FLA., Nov. 19.—Deputy Sheriff H. O. Richard was shot and killed to-day as he was driving by the home of the Bennett brothers. A double-barreled shot gun was used and death was instantaneous.

Richard had attempted to bring the Bennetts to justice for several alleged crimes. One of the charges against J. R. Bennett, who is chairman of the board of commissioners of Bradford county, was peonage, being accused of holding a young girl in custody against her will. For this he was indicted by the grand jury in the United States court and is now awaiting trial.

A few days ago, J. R. Bennett shot at Richard, who saved himself by falling to the ground and afterwards shot at Bennett three times, who took refuge behind the counter of his store.

Richard is a man of prominent family. The Bennetts are among the most prominet business men of the county. Sheriff Johns with a posse is pursuing them.

SENATOR MARK HANNA.

Asks His Friends Not to Urge His Nomination for the Presidency.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

FORT SCOTT, KAS., Nov. 19.—After the Ohio election J. Conine, of this city, an ex-Ohioan, wrote to Senator Hanna urging him to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for president. Mr. Conine received the following letter to-day:

"I consider the great victory an endorsement of the principles and policies of the Republican party and it should find an echo in the campaign of next year. Certainly all who are interested in the prosperity and development of our country agree that the Republican party should be in power, and Ohio has spoken equivocally. While I am gratified by that element in the result which might be considered a personal vindication, it does not justify the claims of friends with reference to the suggestions of my nomination for President. I have no personal ambition to advance and my desire to serve my party constrains me to ask my friends not to place me in the embarrassing position which would result from such a movement."

WARM WIRELETS.

The Senate transacted no business in open session yesterday beyond the receipts of bills and petitions, and after an executive session adjourned until to-morrow.

The Senate in executive session yesterday confirmed the following nominations: John Russell, Mississippi, collector of customs for the district of Natchez, Miss.; S. T. Poinier, postmaster at Spartanburg, S. C.

The jury in the case of L. W. Lyons, who has been on trial for the assassination of District Attorney J. Ward Gurley, at New Orleans yesterday returned a verdict of guilty as charged, the effect of which is to send Lyons to the gallows. The only defence offered was insanity.

Representative Morrell, of Pennsylvania, introduced a bill yesterday to prevent discrimination on account of race or color by common carriers, making it an offence under Federal law, punishable by a $5,000 fine, for common carriers to provide separate cars for either white or colored passengers.

At the primaries for the selection of candidates for the municipal election next month, held in Boston yesterday, the Democrats nominated for mayor Hon. Patrick A. Collins, the present incumbent; the Republicans, Geo. N. Swallow, and the Socialists, Dr. Geo. W. Galvin.

The Farmers' National Bank, Henrietta, Tex., has been closed by direction of the comptroller of the currency. Miller Weir, national bank examiner, has been appointed to be temporary receiver. The bank's capital is $50,000; deposits, $103,191; loans and discount, $173,145; surplus, $35,033; cash on hand, $34,149.

ASKS FOR TROOPS.

The Request Refused by the Authorities at Washington.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—President Roosevelt has received a dispatch from Governor Peabody, of Colorado, asking that General Baldwin, commanding the Department of Colorado, be instructed to supply such troops as may be necessary to preserve order in the Telluride mining district. After a consultation between the President and Secretary of War, Governor Peabody was advised that it did not appear that the resources of the State to keep the peace had been exhausted and therefore the request for troops was denied.

Not since 1891 has it been so cold in November in New Orleans as it was yesterday, with the thermometer registering 30 degrees. Intense cold prevails in the sugar regions.
